CIRCUS PLEASES A LARGE CROWD

Everything New, Novel and First Class—'Joan of Arc' Spectacle Magnificent.

Barring the dust, it was a fine circus, was the Ringling Bros' show, as presented to a packed tent, Thursday night from the opening spectacle, "Joan of Arc" to the closing chariot races, the show went with a swing acquired from a long season on the road. The "Joan of Arc" pageant was as effective as many of the hippodrome spectacles presented in New York. The combination of the lighting, costumes and incidental music all combined to make it superior to the usual circus spectacle. The dancing of the ballet girls in their spangled costumes of variegated colors was the most effective number in the carefully worked out pantomime of the French peasant girl's triumph. The number closed with a parade around the hippodrome track with "Joan of Arc" mounted on her white horse and carrying a shining sword. The combination of the lighting, the band and the playing of the heavier numbers in the score of "Joan of Arc" was another novelty for El Paso circus goers and the effect from across the big tent was especially pleasing.

The circus proper was up to the usual Ringling standard with a number of the best of the acts offered here in the past and a number of new ones, including the Norwegian sailors who did a pole balancing and purchase act which was as original as it was daring. The Balkan riders appeared with their native costumes and did almost impossible feats of riding and tumbling. The circus troupe of strong men lifted weights and men and supported with their feet an automobile touring car filled with seven passengers. The trapeze acts were especially fine, one performer executing a double turn in the air and a tightrope act, giving a beautiful and perfect imitation of butterflies as they waved their filmy draperies. The three rings were filled with performers throughout the performance and the show never dragged for a minute.

The clowns were there, 50 of them with their carefully worked out fun, including an airship which collapsed in midair, and X-ray skit, a burlesque battle, exhibitions of the turkey trot and one-step and other takeoffs on current events. The elephants appeared in the three rings and telephoned to each other, stood on their heads and did the newest dances to musical accompaniment.

The crowd packed the reserved section, overflowed into the blue seats and even stood at the entrances and behind the rope hippodrome track. The street cars were unable to carry the crowds back to the city from the evening show and many walked rather than wait for the return cars.

The ordinary cost of a Want Ad in the El Paso Herald is 25 cents. It reaches an average of about 70,000 readers each issue.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

Mother! Don't hesitate! If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a little "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." The one's stomach, liver and bowels love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.
